GRADUATE ADMISSIONS POLICY

Admission to attend Oklahoma City University is considered to be a privilege rather than a right. The university does not discriminate against any individual because of age, sex, race, marital status, physical disability, or religious affiliation. Oklahoma City University is interested in graduate students who want to learn. Admissions staff will carefully consider each application. Important factors that will be considered are undergraduate records, recommendations from academic counselors or persons able to comment on your professional abilities, character and personality, as well as the interest and goals of the applicant in relation to the graduate programs offered by the university. The Office of Admissions reserves the right to request any additional information before making a decision of admission. Providing false or incomplete information on this application may result in a denial of admission or a cancellation of registration.
