

OCU Law Library Toolbar

The OCU Law Library is pleased to announce our new web browser toolbar. It works in Firefox and Internet Explorer. Download it here: <http://oculawlibrary.ourtoolbar.com/>. Please contact Lee Peoples with any questions or comments about the toolbar.

The Search Box

Enter any search terms and click go and the toolbar will search Google but will also give you links at the top of the page to search for your terms in the law library catalog, SSRN for law review articles, or Wikipedia. You can also click the magnifying glass on the left hand side of the box to search only the law library catalog or other databases that you can select.

Databases

This button will take you directly into Westlaw, LexisNexis, Hein Online, or will show you all law library databases.

Web Links

This button will take you to these popular destinations on our website.

Reference Question

Click this button to submit a reference question.

Law Library Blog "The Gavel"

This button will show you the most recent posts on the law library's blog The Gavel.
